Form District Committee For British War Relief Society

LANGHORNE, Nov. 6.—A meeting of the Langhorne knitting group of the British War Relief Society, Inc., was held at the country club on Monday afternoon, to elect officers and to form a district committee.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Charles Yrigoyen, pastor of Langhorne Methodist Church. Mrs. Edgar Frutcher rendered a vocal solo entitled "There Will Always Be An England," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Harry Friedrich. The business meeting was in charge of Mrs. Lillian Metcalf.

The following officers were elected: Chairman, Mrs. Jesse L. Porter; secretary, Mrs. Maury Jones; treasurer, Miss Gertrude Perkins.

INTERESTING bits of news mainly about people you know. A chronicle of the activities of the people of Bristol; their goings and comings. - - -

To arrange for publication of wedding, telephone The Bristol Courier, Bristol 846, notifying at least a few days in advance the date of ceremony.

Engagement announcements must be submitted in writing.

Mrs. Etta McCarron and Miss Alice McCarron, Brooklyn, N. Y., were guests during the week-end of Miss Mary Doyle, Otter street.

Messrs. Ivan Shrader, of the Department of Labor and Industry, and William Burley, both of Pittsburgh, were Monday guests of William Harding, Garden street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ennis, Philadelphia, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Ennis, Maple street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ferrara and family, Babylon, L. I., and Mrs. Anthony Persichillo and son Guido, Jersey City, N. J., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stallone, Logan street.

ON THE SCREENS

BRISTOL THEATRE

Bind Abbott and Lou Costello have done it again! These two stellar comedians crash the screen with hilarious performances in "Hold That Ghost," which opened yesterday at the Bristol Theatre.

Equipped with a diverting story thread and carrying an imposing supporting cast and an elaborately impressive mounting, "Hold That Ghost" is probably destined to surpass even the enormous grosses piled up by their Army and Navy laugh-jerker films.

GRAND THEATRE

"Belle Starr," the peccolotto terror of the Ozarks, comes vividly to life on the screen in the Technicolor production bearing her name, which comes to the Grand Theatre today.

Lovely Gene Tierney, a flaming new personality, won the role of the beautiful bandit queen opposite Randolph Scott, who portrays Sam Starr, the daring guerrilla leader who loved and married Belle.

Belle was a far cry from the rough frontier woman her two-gun history might indicate. Studio research experts uncovered the fact that she patronized masseuses to keep her figure curvaceous and went to the best dressmakers in Chicago and New York to enhance her allure.

RITZ THEATRE

Four years ago, Paulette Goddard, a protégé of Charlie Chaplin, made her screen debut in "Modern Times." Now Paulette Goddard is a glamorous movie star in her own right, currently co-starring with James Stewart in "Pot O' Gold," which comes today to the Ritz Theatre.

"The Big Boss" is also being shown

Lazy Daisy Luxuries

By Frances Lee Barton

SOMEHOW or other, when an expert discovers a particularly pleasing combination of foods, she drifts away from the more common names and calls it a "whip," a "sponge," an "upside down cake," or perhaps a "lazy daisy" cake or salad. Here is a cake that is surely entitled to at least the "lazy" part of its name — for that's exactly what it is.

Lazy Daisy Cake

2½ cups sifted cake flour; 2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 cup milk; 4 tablespoons butter or other shortening; ¾ teaspoon grated lemon rind; 2 teaspoons lemon juice; 4 eggs; 1½ cups granulated sugar; ¾ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed; 4 tablespoons cream; 4 tablespoons melted butter; 1 can moist, sweetened coconut.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Heat milk, butter, and lemon rind over low flame until butter is melted (do not scald). Remove from fire and cool slightly. Add lemon juice to eggs and beat until thick and lemon-colored; add sugar gradually, and beat until light and fluffy. Add flour, alternately with warm milk mixture, mixing quickly but thoroughly. Bake in greased pan, 10 x 10 x 2 inches, in moderate oven (350° F.) 35 minutes, or until done. Then spread mixture of brown sugar, cream, melted butter, and coconut over top of cake. Bake 12 to 15 minutes longer, or until

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Gailey)

Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

O Thou Who art our Constant Help, in all our work and play help us to be fair and honest, considerate of our mates, and even more anxious to play squarely and well than to win. Keep us thoughtful of others and friendly toward them. Guard us from the quick word, the unworthy thought, the selfish deed. Bring us to the end of this day and every day wiser and stronger, and more able to serve Thee on succeeding days. In Jesus' Name. Amen.

sey City, N. J., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stallone, Logan street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stockert and son Ernest and daughter Barbara Ann, Oxford Valley, were guests the latter part of the week at the home of Mrs. Augustus Frank, Wood street.

Charles Carroll, Philadelphia, was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clark McCahan, Hayes street. Monday guests were Mrs. Edward Mann and daughter, Trenton, N. J.

Mrs. Louise Folino and son Dominick, Tacony, spent Friday until Tuesday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. Galzerano, Jefferson avenue.

BENSALEM GIRLS JUMP BACK INTO RACE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP IN HOCKEY LEAGUE CONTEST

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Nov. 5—With the forward line showing up prominently, the Bensalem girls' hockey team jumped back into the race for the Lower Bucks County championship by registering a 3-0 triumph over Southampton high school here yesterday afternoon.

The forward line of the Owlettes did exceptionally well in its passing and paved the way for the scoring of three field goals by Eleanor Hughes, the center forward. The defense of both teams was also outstanding.

Hughes countered with her first goal on a pass from the right wing Lois Lange. Later in the first session she shot the puck past the Southampton goalie when she was on the receiving end of a pass from Gail King. Hughes took advantage of a pass from the defense to knock in the third goal.

The playing of the girls from the Bensalem institution was quite a contrast to their exhibition of last week when they dropped a 1-0 verdict to the Newtown High School, a defeat which may be bitter and cost them the championship.

The Bensalemites will battle the Doylestown High School team in an exhibition game today. Doylestown is fresh from a 3-2 victory over Souderton.

'FOGGY MORN' FINISHES 5TH IN JUMPERS' EVENT

HARRISBURG, Nov. 6—The Harrisburg Horse Show Association today inscribed on its honor roll the name of Dr. E. J. Laing, Bristol, Pa.

Dr. Laing's chestnut gelding, Foggy Morn, 16.3 hands, won fifth honors in the jumpers' stake event, with 26 entries, during the horse show held in the Arena, here, October 30, 31 and November 1.

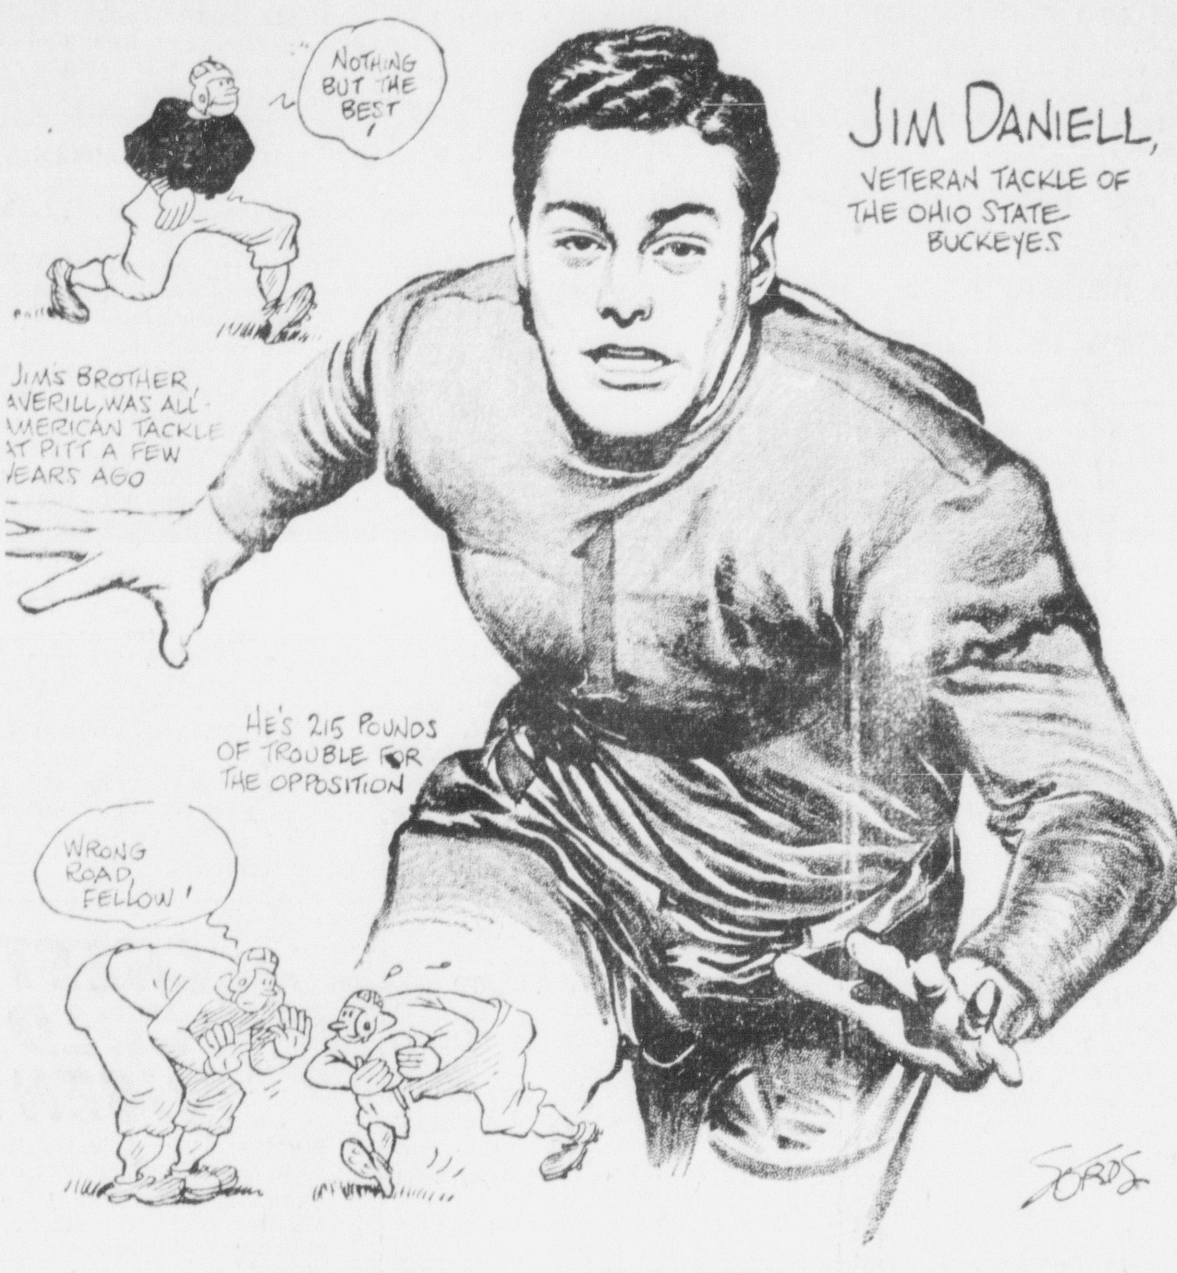

The 1941 Harrisburg Horse Show was the largest ever held here, with more than 800 entries, the geographical distribution of exhibitors giving it a national character second only to the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden. Horse Show Association officials already are starting plans for an even greater show next year.

28th Division Ready For "Center Line Drive"

Somewhere in the Carolinas, Nov. 6—Maj. Gen. Edward Martin and his 28th Division command occupied a point a bare half mile from the enemy Red lines last night, determined to smash or be smashed in a center line drive into enemy territory today.
The crack armored division, unable to break through the 28th flank, abandoned this effort last night in the war games preceding the big maneuvers two weeks hence, and made an unprecedented run around their own main line of defense to swing in a surprise move at the southern-most point of the Blue forces.

Old Offenders at Court Session Given Sentences

Officer Russell Ulmer said the young man "punched down" a ceiling in the men's room in the Casino Building in Menlo Park, Perkasie, on October 5th.
Joe Fausett, another boy, who was arrested, paid one-half of a damage claim of $29.52, but the defendant refused to pay his share.
"I don't drink and I don't know why I did it," said the young man, who was formerly arrested on a charge of larceny by bailer.
Officer Ulmer testified he has had trouble with Thomas on the skating rink in Menlo Park "because you can't tell him anything."
The young man was employed in an Ambler store when he was arrested, but gave no reason for refusing to pay for the damage to the ceiling which they knocked down "for fun."
"The Court gave you your first chance and you didn't take advantage of it," said President Judge Keller.

An All-Time High for Bristol NOW 10,000 CALLS A DAY!

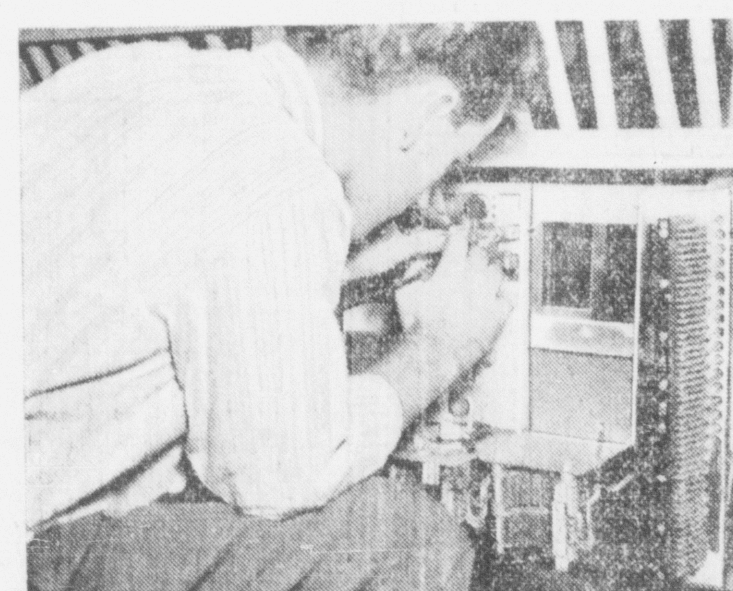

IN BRISTOL, as throughout Pennsylvania, the mounting volumes of telephone calls have reached record proportions. Compared with a year ago, an average of 3,000 more calls daily are being made from Bristol telephones. Out-of-town calls are up 30 per cent. Local calls are up 43 per cent. And in the first eight months of 1941, growth in the number of Bristol telephones was nearly three times that in the same period of 1940.

To handle these greatly increased loads, we have added 4 new employees to the Bristol forces since the start of the year and have made major additions to the central office equipment and to the outside telephone plant. And we will make still further additions this fall.

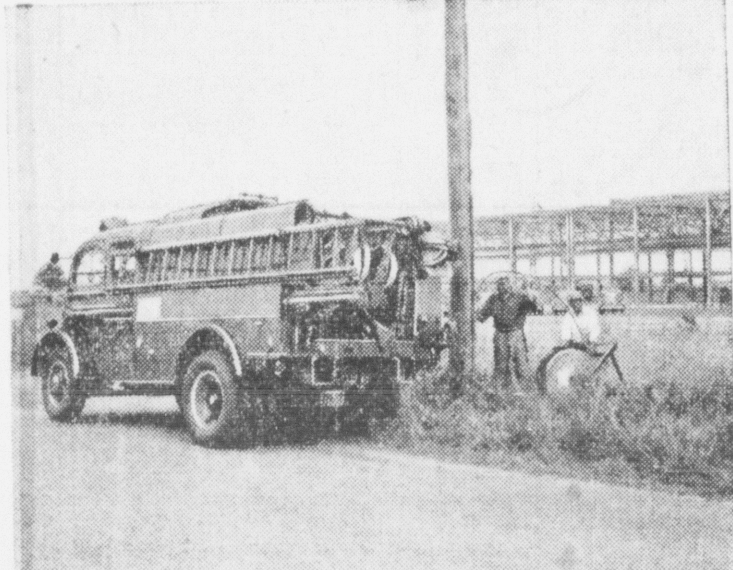

We are sparing neither time, money nor manpower in an all-out drive to keep telephone service in Bristol—and throughout the State—in step with the great and growing needs of home and office, factory and mill, and to meet the all-important demands of national defense.

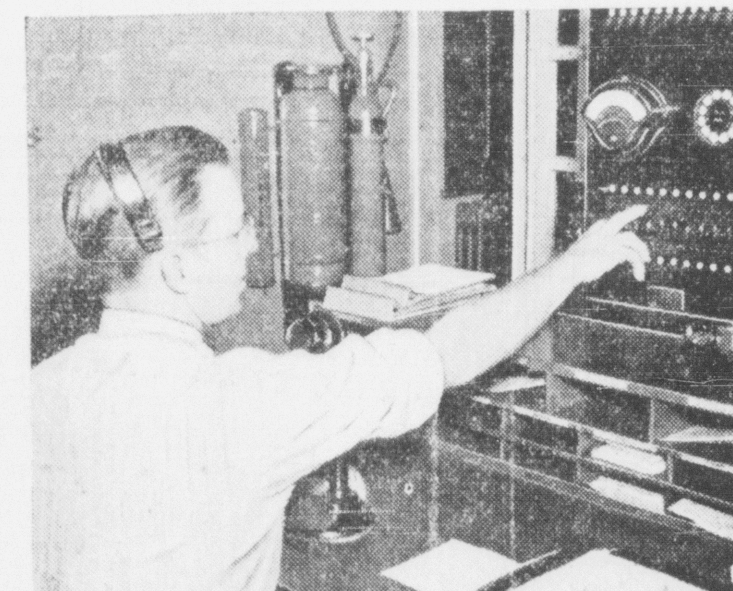

The switchboard in the Bristol Central Office at 220 Pond Street is now handling out-of-town calls at the rate of 1,300 a day. Peak periods are 9:30 to 11:30 in the morning; 2 to 4 in the afternoon; 7 to 8 in the evening. Shown above are Operators Florence Knisley, Virginia Wiltshire, and Florence Stock, with Mrs. Elbertson, Chief Operator.

To handle the big increase in telephone traffic, additions were made to the equipment in the Bristol Central Office last summer. Above is William J. Fitzgerald, from the Western Electric Company—manufacturer and supplier for the Bell System—adjusting some of the equipment recently installed.

Bristol linemen, J. A. Blieler and Howard C. Bolt, running cable into the new plant of the Fleetwing Aircraft Corporation. A total of 70 telephone construction jobs have been completed in the Bristol Exchange in the first eight months of this year, with 25 more now under way or scheduled.

Harry M. Kulp, Switchman in the Bristol office, testing new equipment and lines added to take care of defense plant telephone service. All over Pennsylvania, defense activities have required large-scale construction and expansion of telephone plant and equipment, totaling about $100,000 each working day!

- Your cooperation as a telephone user will play an important part in "speeding the service that speeds defense." These suggestions will help you and other telephone users save time.
- 1. Be sure to wait for the dial tone on every call.
- 2. Don't trust to memory or to old lists for telephone numbers. It's best to look in the directory and make sure.
- 3. Answer the telephone promptly.
- 4. When you make a call, give the called party enough time to answer before you "hang up."
- 5. Try to avoid unnecessarily long conversations, especially if you are on a party line.
- 6. Be sure to hang up the instrument after every call. Failure to do so means your line is "busy"—though it may be doing nothing! Thank you!

FARMERS IN COUNTY ARE FATTENING STEERS

Several Large Herds Are Located in Different Sections of County

BOUGHT IN THE WEST

Bucks county's beef cattle population, according to County Agent William F. Greenawalt, Doylestown, has been on the increase during the past few years. This fall a number of farmers have stocked their properties with steers, some of which were purchased directly from ranches in the West and others in the stock yards.

These cattle, said Mr. Greenawalt, are purchased more by the farmers who go in for extensive farming during the summer and who then take up the fattening of steers as a side line during the winter, following which they are sold to local dealers or to abattoirs in Newark and Jersey City, N. J., in the spring.

A yearling steer at this time of the year will weigh about 750 pounds, and by spring, if they have had the proper food and living conditions, should vary in weight from 1150 to 1200 pounds.

Farmers who engage in this enterprise find it costs from 14 to 14½ cents a pound for the steers delivered on their farms, but usually the selling price in the spring is quite uncertain. If the farmer can supply the feed at a relatively low cost, he is able generally to net a good profit, but if the feeding costs are high and the price of beef slumps during the winter and early spring, the farmer takes a chance of getting little profit.

Herefords and the Aberdeen Angus breeds are the ones used usually for fattening purposes. Milk production of the cows amounts to practically nothing, but they are easy to fatten. Known among farmers as range cattle, they are hardy and very few, if any, are permitted to remain in the fields during the severe weather in the winter.

One of the most recent purchasers of Hereford steers is Harry M. Smith, Doylestown, who recently took possession of the former Chapman farm on the outskirts of the borough. Mr. Smith last week had 36 head delivered from Montana and in Chicago.

William H. Yerkes, Jr., Buckingham, this fall purchased 100 head of steers, and Clifford Yerkes and his brother-in-law, Newlin Hogeland, Southampton, recently made a trip to Montana to purchase steers. J. Hibbs Buckman, Langhorne, also purchased about 35 head in Chicago.

Some farmers, who do not go in so extensively for the fattening of steers, purchase them in the stock yards in Lancaster, the distributing center for the eastern part of the country.

Feeding rations usually begin with a mixture of grain, including corn, oats, bran and linseed oil meal. This combination forms the main ration for the first two months, and then the formula is usually limited to 90 per cent cracked corn and 10 per cent linseed oil meal. Due to the fact that ensilage is a milk producing feed, very little of this is fed the steers, but they are given some roughage, which includes corn fodder and a good quality of hay, either clover or alfalfa.

According to Mr. Greenawalt, there has been an increase in the number of breeding herds for beef cattle in the county, and one of the most extensive breeders along this line is Raymond Rubicum, "Rolling Ridge Farms," between Danboro and Gardenville. Mr. Rubicum is the owner of a large herd of Aberdeen Angus. Another extensive breeder of Aberdeen Angus cattle is Herman Heston, Newtown township. The latter not only specializes in the breeding of these cattle, but he also retains a large number of them for fattening purposes. Mr. Heston has about 60 in his herd.

Quite a number of men who are engaged in other lines of business in the metropolitan areas have purchased farms in Bucks county, and they are taking up the breeding of beef cattle as a side line.

Frazier Hunt, a well-known news commentator, who maintains a farm in Newtown township, is the owner of about 50 head of Herefords, and P. L. Davidson, also of Newtown township, has about 12 head of Aberdeen Angus. Lawrence Pearson, owner of a farm in Newtown township, has a herd of about 50 Aberdeen Angus, and L. W. Heller, of near Yardley, has a herd of about 12 head of the same breed.

PET GOES BERSERK

LEWBEACH, N. Y.—(INS)—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Darbee, who live near the Irving Berlin home here, no longer have their pet honey-bear but Mrs. Darbee has an infected finger, to show for it. They had raised the animal from a cub three years ago, and it was a household pet. Suddenly, the bear attacked them as they slept and bit them both. Darbee awoke, fought off the bear and finally threw it out of the house. When the bear charged against a screen door and threatened to batter it down in its fury, Darbee used a shotgun with telling effect.

PROFESSOR WINS HONORS

DURHAM, N. H.—(INS)—Howard Stotworthy is assistant professor of mechanical engineering and instructor of ground school in the University of New Hampshire's courses under the Civilian Aeronautics Administration. He figured he might have a better understanding of his students if he saw the course from their point of view. So he took up flight training himself. He was awarded his certificate recently. His rating: The highest of the year.

FULL INSURANCE BEING SOUGHT FOR TURBINE

Perkasie Council Discovers Only Half of Liability Is Accepted

HAS BEEN REPAIRED

PERKASIE, Nov. 6.—A problem confronts Perkasie borough council, it being learned by that body that but half of the liability for its broken-down turbine is being accepted by the insurance company which holds the policy.

The turbine broke down several months ago, and has been at the Allis-Chalmers shop in the Middle West under repairs. The work was long delayed by a strike.

During the past month the repaired turbine has been placed back in service, and it is now in operation. The bill for the work was announced last night at $8000.

At the same time it was revealed that the insurance company offers to pay only $4,000. Borough council members feel that the insurers are fully liable, and the secretary was instructed to get a full explanation of the concern's stand for a further report.

A hearing was held on the proposed change in the zoning ordinance on Fifth street, from Park to Elm. This is rated as a residential A district, and a petition was recently received asking that it be made a business district.

When the hearing was called it was found that five of the petition-signers had changed their stand, and asked for a continuation of the present status. Accordingly, council tabled further action.

Lloyd Yeakel, tax collector, reported $427 collected in the past month on the 1941 duplicate, with $3,299 still outstanding. Five dollars was paid in on the 1940 duplicate, with $567 outstanding; and $197 on the years 1935 to 1937.

HOT LUNCHES ARE A GREAT AID TO THE HEALTH OF CHILDREN

By Miss Edna Stephany
(Home Economics Representative)

Hot lunches have long been recognized as desirable because of the benefits to children's health. Teachers report that better school attendance, better attitudes of work, even better scholarship show up as soon as hot school lunches are served regularly. Although accurate figures on all school lunches served throughout the country are not available, one thing is certain. The trend is upward, not down. And since 1939, millions of undernourished children have been added to those receiving school lunches, thanks to surplus farm commodities made available for that use.

This year, the Surplus Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture looks for surplus farm commodities to reach upwards of five million children. Almost as many more children can be served, if more communities will take it upon themselves to provide the sponsorship for such projects. There must be someone to take charge of it, see that the lunches are prepared and served, and that non-surplus foods are provided when they are needed to make the lunch complete.

In addition, of course, there need to be others who co-operate, see to it that funds are provided to carry on. Civic organizations, such as parent-teachers associations, churches, and service clubs usually take care of this end of things.

But the matter who oversees the school lunch or how it is financed, it should be well-balanced if it is to do the most good. It needs to provide the kind of food children can use to build their bodies, and can use for energy for play and study.

A school lunch is made up of one nourishing main dish, a glass or two of milk, fruit or vegetable in some form, bread and butter or a sandwich, and a simple dessert.

On this main theme, there may be a thousand variations. For the menu varies according to the food value of the main dish and the cooking equipment and other facilities on hand.

Most ambitious school lunches are built around a substantial main dish, with the rest of the meal of lighter foods. The main dish may be of meat, fish, eggs, or beans. Or it may be one of these in combination with a cereal or with vegetables. Or, on cold days, it may be a lunch built around a hot soup or chowder to hit the spot.

Some good menus on this pattern might be: meat loaf, raw vegetable sandwich, fruit shortcake, and milk; or Spanish rice with salt pork or bacon, carrot sticks or other raw vegetable, bread and butter sandwich, stewed dried fruit, and milk; or salt pork and vegetable chowder, muffins, prune cottage pudding, and milk.

A lighter main dish would have a heavier supporting cast of other foods. Light main dishes might be cooked vegetables, vegetable soups, and salads. With an apple and cabbage salad, for instance, a crisp bacon or peanut butter sandwich, creamy rice with raisins, and milk would round out a substantial meal.

Even if there can't be a complete meal prepared at the school, the lunch program is worthwhile nevertheless.

It may be one nourishing hot dish and milk and fruit. Or it could be fruit and milk or cocoa to supplement the lunch the children carry to school. Or it might be a nutritious sandwich filling made up at school to go with bread brought from home, other foods brought from home, and a glass of milk.

GIVE LIVER BILE FLOW A BOOST--

And You Too After 10 May Enjoy Life More—Sleep Sounder—Awake Refreshed—Ready for Work.

Normally your liver should discharge about a quart of digestion-aiding bile juices every 24 hours. A scanty flow—a slowing up may mean Sick Headaches, Blisters, Poor Digestion with that "stiff sick" depressed feeling.

Stir yourself! Do this for 30 days: take half a teaspoonful of Kruschen salts (a famous blend of six salts) in three-quarters of a glass of hot or cold water every morning, half an hour before breakfast. Don't miss a morning. This simple sensible prescription that has worked wonders for thousands should do the same for you. Try it for 30 days and you too may shake off that "run down" feeling and get a real "lift." But don't start unless you agree to keep it up for 30 days. If then you do not feel better, get your money back. Morry's Co., Rt. 6, St. Louis, Mo. Rate 10c. (Advertisement)

Beginning at a point in the Southwesterly line of Lafayette Street two hundred and eighty-three and fifty-two hundredths feet, Northwestwardly from the corner of Pond Street, at the corner of land now or late of Margaret Smith, thence Southwestwardly at right angles to Lafayette Street along the line of said now or late Smith's land one hundred and forty-nine feet to land now or late of the estate of Andrew Schaffer, deceased, thence Northwestwardly parallel to the line of Washington Street by said land now or late of the estate of Andrew Schaffer, deceased, and land now or late of Julia M. Slack twenty feet, thence Northeastwardly at right angles to Lafayette Street by other land now or late of Julia M. Slack one hundred and forty-nine feet, more or less, to the line of Lafayette Street, thence Southeastwardly along the line of said Street twenty feet to the Place of Beginning. Being known and numbered as 121 Lafayette Street.

Being the same premises which Emilio Pagliarini and Natalia Pagliarini, his wife, by their indenture bearing date the Fourteenth day of April, A. D. 1926, and recorded in the Office for the Recording of Deeds at Doylestown, in and for the County of Bucks, in Deed Book No. 523, Page 331, granted and conveyed unto Thomas Paolo Tusiano and Settima Tusiano, his wife, in fee simple.

The improvements are one-half of a two-story frame house 15x27 feet with a two-story frame end attached 15x15 feet with a one-story frame end attached 12x15 feet containing four rooms on the first floor and three rooms on the second floor.

Seized and taken in execution as the property of Thomas Paolo Tusiano and Settima Tusiano, his wife, and to be sold by WILLIAM L. STACKHOUSE, Sheriff.

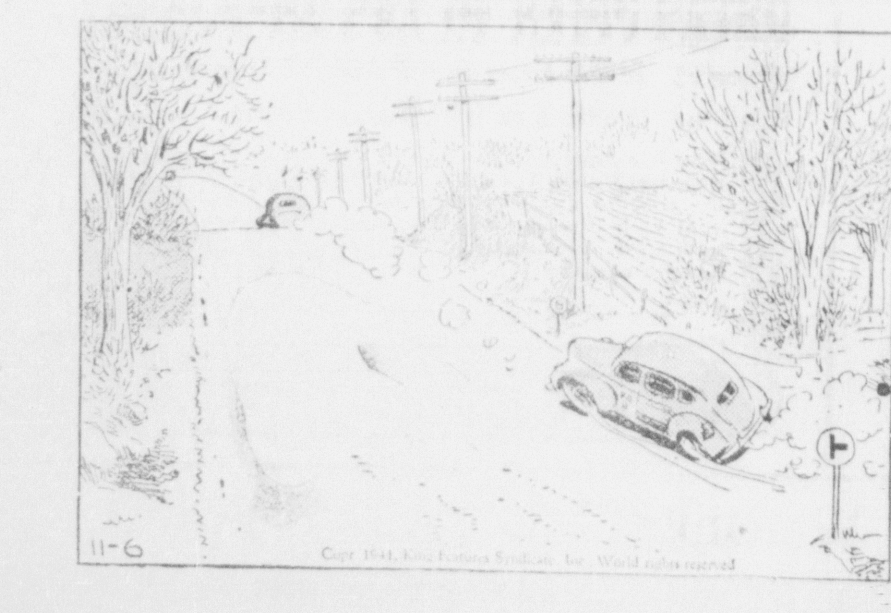

HARRY SCHALCHER, Attorney.

The Great Game of Politics

require his extermination, declaring that the "rattlesnakes of the Atlantic" must be destroyed, and proclaiming Russia as well as England our ally—with these things all being openly said and done, the continuance of diplomatic relations seems an absurdity.

IT becomes more than that when it is realized that the present diplomatic status is an advantage to the Germans, a disadvantage to us. The facts are these: It was in 1938 that the President brought back our Ambassador, Mr. Hugh Wilson, and the Germans recalled their Ambassador. It was a mistake for us to do that, because in Mr. Wilson we had one of the ablest and best-equipped diplomats in the service, who in the days that followed would have been of great use to the country. By recalling him no purpose was served save to transfer American affairs to a charge who, no matter how good, had no comparable standing, weight or sources of information.

SOME months ago, after it had been revealed that the German consulates here were being used to cloak a horde of political and propaganda agents, the President, prodded by the State Department, and the FBI, closed them up. The Germans retaliated with similar action. This, however, did not affect the German Embassy in Washington, nor the American Embassy in Berlin. Each country maintained the pretense of friendly relations by a continuance of diplomatic representation in the other's capital. The difference is that the German staff in Washington is larger than the American staff in Berlin. There is the further difference that in Berlin the American representatives indulged in no espionage or propaganda activities at all. On the other hand, while the German Embassy in Washington keeps its skirts clear on the surface, there is a strong suspicion that to it cluster agents whose work is similar to that of the German consuls whom we sent home.

IT also seems clear that unless Dr. Thomsen, the German charge here, were a devoted and trusted adherent of Hitler, as well as a very able representative of the Nazi party, he would not have been allowed to stay all this time in a post where it is more important that Hitler have a trusted and efficient man than any other. American diplomats abroad never engage in espionage or propaganda activities, but such activities are an inseparable, invariable and important part of every German mission everywhere in the world. While the State Department asserts it has no reason to believe that such activities are now being cloaked by the German Embassy, there certainly is no reason to believe they are not. Considering our hostile intentions toward Hitler, it is clear that the Germans derive a benefit from the present status, if only because information is so much more accessible here for them than it is there for us.

THE department's excuse that there are still Americans and American interests in Germany which must be looked out for hardly holds water. The fact is that the few Americans left in Germany, outside of the diplomats and correspondents, are those who do not want to come out. Our interests, such as they are, could be turned over, as in the last war, to Switzerland, and what we chiefly are doing in Berlin now is to look after British interests and prisoners of war. What little we can do for these does not seem worth the advantage which accrues to Hitler from the large staff he maintains in Washington.

NOR is there much weight in the argument that a complete severance of diplomatic relations would make inevitable a declaration of war. That by no means follows. Actually, such severance would bring us no closer to a war declaration than the repeal of the Neutrality Act. Diplomatic relations always can be resumed at any time. Thus discontinuance now merely would rob the Nazis of an obvious advantage and make our attitude of unreserved hostility more consistent and intelligent. It would put us no further into the war than we now are (which is pretty far), but it would make our position stronger and our policy more effective.

ALL-CONFERENCE XI CHOSEN BY COACHES, PLAYERS AND SCRIBE

Unsigned Author of Letter
Tells of Merits of Certain Players

MAKES STRONG PLEA

Players and Fans Should Realize That the Game Is Main Objective

By Jack Gill

Jamming about fourteen peanuts into one nutshell, here's the general set-up untarnished but edited: "Sir: I would like to know if you go to see these high school games you write up in your sports page. You don't seem to be fair with the boys on the team outside of a certain few or you don't know much about football. You write up as if he was the best player they had and he only played a half a game this season. And he made a very poor start.

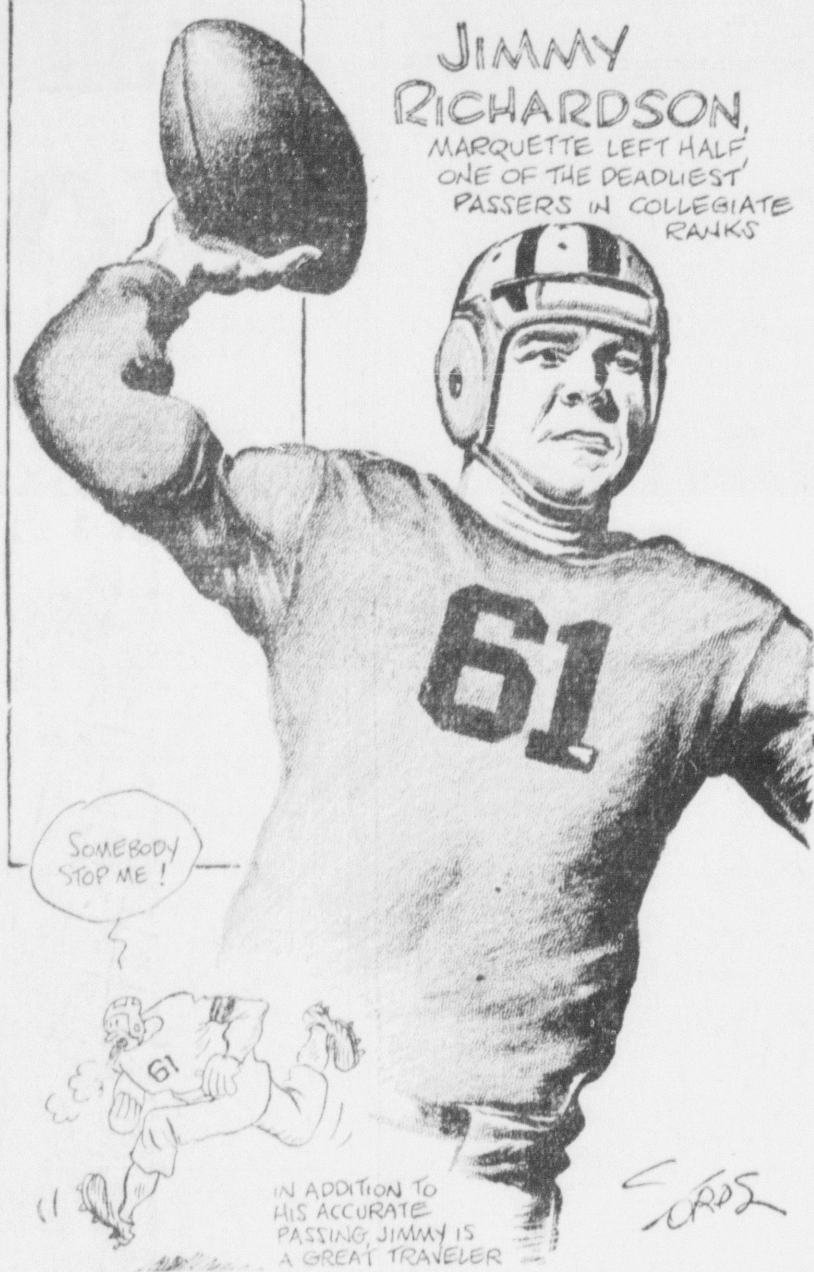

"You have a — there that is one of the best the school has had in the last 4 years named — and a — named — and — You take these three out of the line and see how far the team gets. And they are working harder than you think due to the weak ends. I think you would be fair to give these boys a little write-up once in a while and you would help the team instead of leaving them out in the cold. I played football myself and I know how it feels to pick up the paper and read your name in it. It makes you feel like playing harder the next game. You gave young — a poor write-up last year. I have seen every game they played in the last 5 years. The — from Morrisville played better ball than he ever played. This is not only opinion but about 100 other football fans that follow the games and know football. Hoping you will be fair to the boys and I mean all of the boys and give them a good word once in a while—it helps a lot. I write this to you because this is my opinion and plenty other fans and I know they know football and follow it. Yours truly, Hoping you will be fair."

The letter is unsigned. I consider myself thoroughly chastised, pulled through a narrow knothole and in general lambasted. After all, this man is entitled to his unwelcome opinion and he really let loose.

Let's get something straight at the beginning. This all-conference business happens to be my problem child this year. As chairman of the selection board, I am to pick the team.

MIDWEST STAR

By Jack Sords

Already from every coach, player and Soc, so the legend goes, didn't believe in there has arisen a drum beating he was such an intelligent egg. So he campaign for various players who "must" make the team.

Here's how your all-conference squad will be chosen. Each coach will pick his team and forward it to me. So likewise will each player pick his best league opponent. My two cents will be thrown in with these two outfits. Thus, you have your all-conference disappointments to blame on the coaches, players and sportswriter. Shooting straight from the shoulder, I would like to defend myself from my barbaric critic. First, there are many men in this section who know more about football than I profess to know about the subject.

I have just re-read Plato's piece concerning Socrates "Apology Before the Athenian Court." Socrates was the smart guy, you may remember, who was told by an old god that he was the wisest man in Athens. Now old reader interest, feature articles are presented each week in the paper. And in nearly all instances coaches are contacted to offer versions on subjects, or the game itself has produced a star about which to jaw-jab. Only, last week we talked to a public high league player on "publicity pampered local boys" and he retorted that the only time he got his name in the Philly papers was when they inserted the pre-game line-up. And then they misspelled it.

But we're glad that you dropped your rather abrupt missile, fellow, for you too have a voice. We'll watch your man all the more intently from here on and see what we may have missed before.

In conclusion, how about all of us admitting that the game is the sole objective—not the screaming headlines. For centuries long the scoring jacks have received the plaudits of the crowd and the press, whilst the eaten and battered line limps off the field forgotten. And because of the nature of the game, it will probably continue to be that way. But inside the locker rooms and in the hearts of men who really know, Tom Jones, who plugged up a rugged hole at guard, turned in more of a man's sized job than Flash Smith's sensational running score. The man who wrote this letter knows it and so do hundreds of other fans.

EXPECT BETTER SEASON FOR GUNNERS LATER

(By Jack Gill)

The most pertinent fact about Saturday's small game hunting season opening was the rain. It overshadowed the many minor incidents that annually occur during the first day.

None of that tangy Fall weather was apparent. Hundreds of cars dotted the roadsides in lower Bucks county, however, as the nimrods braved inclement atmospheric conditions.

Charles A. Rowe, Doylestown resident and president of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, stated that the relatively small kill, Saturday, should make for a better season in general. Usually the tremendous mob that greets opening day with an enthusiastic outlook shoots far too much game. Because bad weather held many back last week, not as many pheasants were bagged, although several reported success hopping rabbits. More than 700,000 residents hunters will trample the fields this season. In a normal hunting year, this tribe has killed as much as 10,000 tons of game, according to the State Department. Generally accorded as the best gunning State east of the Rockies, Pennsylvania attracts more than 8,000 non-resident sportsmen yearly, who pay a fee for their privilege.
